Call for Abstracts

The Aboriginal Nurses Association of Canada is planning its 2011 National Forum in collaboration with the "Indigenous Physicians Association of Canada (IPAC)" September 29, 2011 to October 1, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

This national forum will bring together health care professionals and practitioners to strengthen bonds of Indigenous knowledge and cultural safety. This Forum provides opportunities for Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal Nurses to come together to share, support, and network and link our knowledge across a wide variety of diverse, yet overlapping health topics.

Please submit your oral or poster presentations by the deadline, June 24, 2011. This year's theme, "Sustaining a Healthy Future: From Indigenous Knowledge to Cultural Safety" focuses on training and practices that are culturally relevant, safe and informed by Indigenous knowledge.

Abstracts address the specific health needs of Aboriginal peoples; speak to the commitment of culturally safe practices; and describe training initiatives that bring a cultural perspective into planning and processes will be given a priority.

Abstracts must meet one of the following criteria for priority consideration:

- Submission by Students/members (A.N.A.C.)
- Research reflective of the Forum theme

Instructions for Submitting Abstracts:

- Use attached abstract form; not to exceed 150 words; please use 12pt font
- E-mail to the national office: ctoulouse@anac.on.ca
